When there is a number following the townland name, it is only to distinguish it from other townlands with the same name.

Shanagolden

Civil Parish:	Shanagolden
Diocese:	Limerick
Barony:	Shanid
Poor Law Union:	Glin
Catholic Parish:	Shanagolden & Foynes

SHANAGOLDEN, a post-town and parish, in the Shanid Division of the barony of Lower Connello, county of Limerick, and province of Munster, 20 miles (W.) from Limerick, and 116 (W.S.W.) from Dublin, on the road from Rathkeale to Listowel; containing, in 1831, 3213 inhabitants, of which number, 847 were in the town, the population of which has since that time considerably increased. The parish comprises 3663 statute acres, as applotted under the tithe act; about two-thirds are under cultivation, producing abundant crops of corn, potatoes, and clover, the rest being rough pasture: the land is remarkably fertile, particularly near the town, and in some places is tolerably well cultivated. The town consists of a long irregular street, comprising 150 houses, of which three only are slated, the remainder being thatched, and all are small and ill-built. It is a constabulary police station; and petty sessions are held on alternate Mondays. Fairs take place on the Wednesday after Trinity-Sunday, and on Sept. 4th, chiefly for cattle and pigs. A new line of road from the town joins the mail road on the banks of the Shannon, at Robertstown, opening a ready communication with the county of Kerry. The substratum in and around the town is limestone, of which blocks of a very large size are procured for cutting into gate-posts, pillars, slabs, &c., but are all sent away, as no attempt has been made to cut or work them on the spot. Black and grey marble of very superior quality are extensively found throughout the lower part of the parish, but are only worked for repairing the roads, or fencing the fields. The town and the surrounding lands are principally the property of the Rt. Hon. T. Spring Rice, Chancellor of the Exchequer, whose seat is about three miles distant. Close adjoining the town is Shanagolden House, the elegant residence of the Rev. G. Vincent; and the glebe-house, more than a mile distant from the church, is at present occupied by J. Fitzgerald, Esq. The living is a rectory and vicarage, in the diocese of Limerick; the rectory forms the corps of the precentorship of the cathedral of Limerick, and the vicarage is in the patronage of the Precentor. The tithes amount to �200, one-third of which is payable to the vicar, and the remainder to the precentor. The glebe-house was erected by aid of a gift of �400 and a loan of �232, in 1813, from the late Board of First Fruits: the glebe comprises 11� acres, being composed of three portions, one near the church, another near the little village called Barracks, and the third where the glebe-house stands; the last was purchased by the same Board. The church is a large and handsome edifice, apparently very old; the chancel being in ruins, the nave was fitted up for divine service, having been roofed and a lofty square tower built, in 1815, by aid of a loan of �450 from the before-mentioned Board; the Ecclesiastical Commissioners have recently granted �101 for its repair. In the R. C. divisions this parish is the head of a union or district, comprising the parishes of Shanagolden, Kilmoylan, and Robertstown; the chapel is a large plain edifice, situated on a hill to the east of the town. There are two mathematical male schools for adults, in which about 25 pupils; and there are 4 private schools, in which are about 150 children. About a mile south from the town, in the parish of Kilmoylan, is Shanid castle, one of the most impregnable of those possessed by the Earls of Desmond, and from which they took their war cry of Shanid-a-boo: this castle, which gives name to a baronial division of the county, occupies the top of a steep hill, and is surrounded by a strong rampart and fosse. Not far distant is a very extensive circular fort, divided by earthworks into four compartments; but these subdivisions appear to be of later date than the original formation of the fort. A mile north from the town is Knockpatrick, said to be the highest land in the county, whence the surrounding country is seen stretching in extensive perspective, with the majestic course of the Shannon through its numerous windings to the sea. On the summit are the remains, held in great veneration, of an old church, supposed to have been consecrated by St. Patrick, whose chair is shewn in an adjoining field, composed of five rude unhewn stones; and not far distant is a well, dedicated to him. Of which various legends are related: the side walls of this venerable edifice are nearly entire, through the east and west gables have entirely disappeared, and the space of the western wall is occupied by a large and curious tomb belonging to the families of Bourke and Griffin. From this hill are extensive and interesting views, embracing the high grounds of the counties of Tipperary, Galway, Cork and Kerry, with the rich lands of Clare and Limerick in the foreground, and the towns of Limerick and Ennis rising beyond the expanded waters of the Shannon. from Lewis' Topographical Dictionary and Gazetteer

Subject: Military Research

Anthony Adolph referred you to me.
I recently contacted the Records Office with a request for the following record & was told it was not easily identifiable. I thought I had specific details!

What I have is:

WO 23/45 Chelsea Registers 95th Foot 1845-54

John Crimmins
1-0
Date of Admission 9 Aug. 1842
Residence - Limerick
Liverpool - 1 Aug. 1847
Newcastle - 1 Sept. 1847
84686/63 1850
Canada 1 July 1851

What I am trying to obtain is a paper (or digital) copy of the original papers. A.J. McMillan, a researcher in 1978, found the record but only abstracted some of the information.

What would you advise?

At this time I am only interested in the above record but may be interested in some other research in the future.

Sincerely,

Helen E. Read

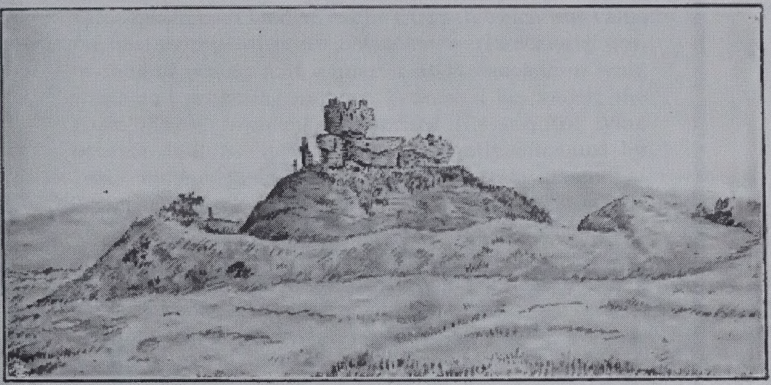
a well ordered society is respect for individual rights. This fact alone must have exerted a great influence in making the Norman grow accustomed to Irish ideals.

In adopting the Irish divisions and sub-divisions of land, they must often have disputes among themselves about boundaries and other rights attached to particular divisions. The natives, who alone possessed the knowledge requisite for deciding such disputes, were naturally consulted. Daily intercourse of this kind must have been a powerful though silent factor in wedding the foreigner to the manners and customs of the native.



SHANID CASTLE.

The Manor of Shanid.[1]

This manor, as has been remarked, was the ancient home of the Geraldines in the county. This inquisition gives a very minute account of the internal organization of the manor, as well as the relative positions of the Norman and the Irish under the manorial lord.

[1] S.C.D.I., 1298.

DEMESNE LANDS.—After the death of Thomas, in 1298, a jury was sworn to find out the exact value of his various manors.

They found in the Manor of Shanid that there was 360 acres of arable land, which they valued at 6*d.* per acre. 16 acres of meadow and 2 acres at Adlen at 6*d.* per acre. From pasture and park nothing could be received as no one would rent pasture there. There was 9 acres of arable land beside the demesne called Kilbecan, which they valued at 4*s.* 6*d.* per year. Total, £9 13*s.* 6*d.*

THE LANDS HELD BY THE IRISH.—The Irish held three-quarters of land at Adthe (Athea), which was value for 40*s.* in time of peace; Manchmore (Banemore), 40*s.* in time of peace; half a quarter at Ballauchdram lying waste and producing nothing, because it lies among the Irish. These townlands comprised the country lying between Ballyhahill and Athea, evidently inhabited by Irish enjoying their own laws and a certain amount of independence.

The following townlands were scattered through the manor, and generally contained the worst lands:—

Half a quarter at Clouncarnan (obsolete), value 13*s.* 4*d.* per year.

Cloinclouthny (on Knockpatrick hill), value 13*s.* 4*d.* per year.

Half quarter at Tolauhariter, value 1 mark per year.

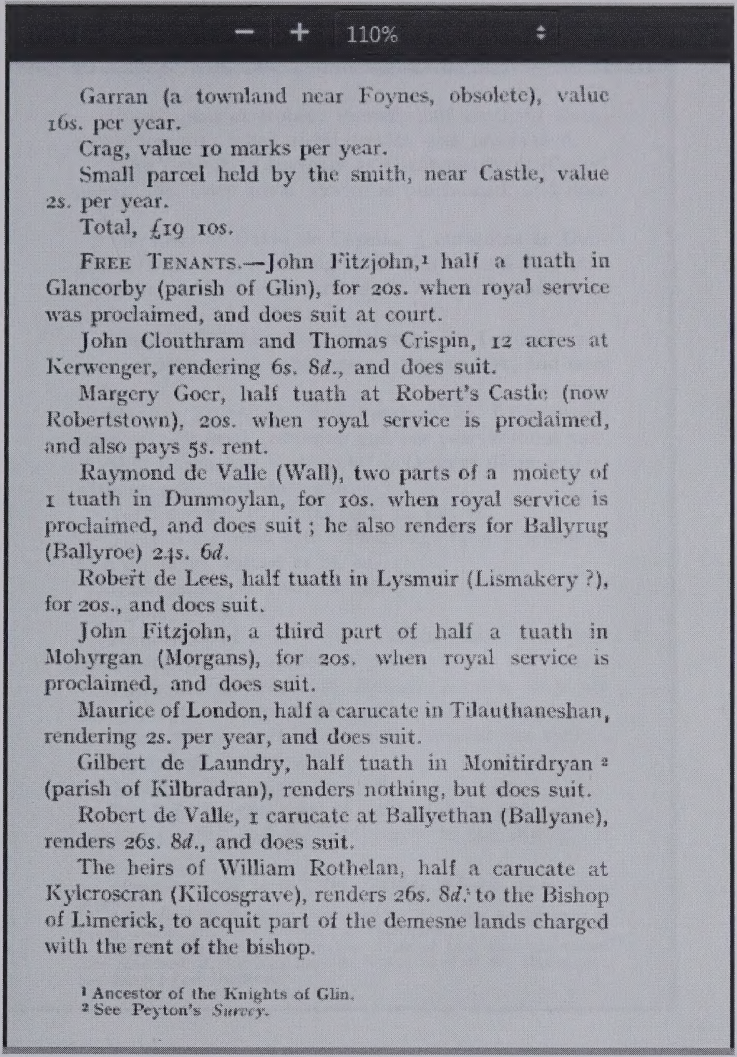
One quarter at Funnath (Finnoe), value 26*s.* 8*d.* per year.

Half quarter at Ballimalys (Ballynash), value 20*s.* per year.

Ballycoman, value 16*s.* 8*d.* per year.

Parcels of land at Sangenauth and Goaitroyth, value 40*s.* yer year.

Ballyboher and Knockeveny, value 10*s.* per year.



Garran (a townland near Foynes, obsolete), value 16s. per year.

Crag, value 10 marks per year.

Small parcel held by the smith, near Castle, value 2s. per year.

Total, £19 10s.

FREE TENANTS.—John Fitzjohn,[1] half a tuath in Glancorby (parish of Glin), for 20s. when royal service was proclaimed, and does suit at court.

John Clouthram and Thomas Crispin, 12 acres at Kerwenger, rendering 6s. 8*d*., and does suit.

Margery Goer, half tuath at Robert's Castle (now Robertstown), 20s. when royal service is proclaimed, and also pays 5s. rent.

Raymond de Valle (Wall), two parts of a moiety of 1 tuath in Dunmoylan, for 10s. when royal service is proclaimed, and does suit; he also renders for Ballyrug (Ballyroe) 24s. 6*d*.

Robert de Lees, half tuath in Lysmuir (Lismakery ?), for 20s., and does suit.

John Fitzjohn, a third part of half a tuath in Mohyrgan (Morgans), for 20s. when royal service is proclaimed, and does suit.

Maurice of London, half a carucate in Tilauthaneshan, rendering 2s. per year, and does suit.

Gilbert de Laundry, half tuath in Monitirdryan[2] (parish of Kilbradran), renders nothing, but does suit.

Robert de Valle, 1 carucate at Ballyethan (Ballyane), renders 26s. 8*d*., and does suit.

The heirs of William Rothelan, half a carucate at Kylcroscran (Kilcosgrave), renders 26s. 8*d*., to the Bishop of Limerick, to acquit part of the demesne lands charged with the rent of the bishop.

[1] Ancestor of the Knights of Glin.

[2] See Peyton's Survey.

Robert, son of Robert Purcell, half tuath in Rathronan for 20s., when royal service was proclaimed.

John Gradok, 1 carucate at Carnhousteragh (Cahernagh), 10s. when royal service is proclaimed, and does suit.

The heirs of David de Capella, 3 curacates at Dungeygh (Duncaha), rendering 3s. at Easter, and does suit.

Henry de Capella, 1 carucate in Ardryn (Ardaneer ?), rendering 2s., and does suit.

Thomas Boscher, half carucate, at Gortmolkeran (part of Morgans ?), rendering 4s. 3*d.* per acre, and does suit.

Henry Fitzrobert, half carucate at Balligaveryn (was near Foynes), rendering 12*d.* per year, without suit.

Milo Bozon, half a carucate[1] in Ogawyr (Glenagower) without rent, and does suit.

Total service, £6 ; total rent, £4 18*s.* 8*d.*

There is a garden with its curtilage (a plot belonging to a dwelling), valued at 6s. 8*d.*

Hand mills, per year, 6*s.* 8*d.*

Pannage,[2] 6*s.* 8*d.*

Perquisites of court, with heriots,[3] fines, and payments of Irish, are valued at 40s.

There are no works of Betagii because they are charged with rent for works, gifts, and presents.

There is nothing from warrens, because the rabbits are destroyed by foxes.

A mill at Newgrange, 13*s.* 4*d.*

Total, £4 6*s.* 7*d.* ; total of totals, £38 8*s.* 10*d.*, wherefrom was subtracted 8*s.* paid yearly to the Bishop of [1] Carucate = 120 acres. See Glossary S.C.D.I. (1285-1292), p. 668.

[2] The food which swine feed upon in the woods as the mast of beech, acorns, etc. See Jacob's Law Dictionary.

Limerick by Thomas, for land which his grandfather granted to the nuns of O'Konyl (i.e. St. Catherine's, near Shanagolden), and 26*s.* 8*d.* paid to the same bishop to acquit land of demesne which Thomas held of him there, total, 34*s.* 8*d.* The manor is worth for the king's use, £36 14*s.* 2*d.* clear.

The Manor of Novo Castro (Newcastle West).

This manor comprised the ancient tuaths of O'Bathyn and Corco' Oighe, which are substantially the same as the present poor-law parishes of Newcastle West, Monagea and Abbeyfeale. In this inquisition they are not separately referred to except the sergeancy of each. We have a better knowledge of the topography of this manor, it seems more desirable to group the townlands under the old divisions.

Taking O'Bathyn first, the jury found that the castle and buildings inside the wall, as well as those without, were of no value, as it was necessary to devote larger sums to their upkeep than can be levied from them.

FREE TENANTS.—Geoffry Roberts and Robert le Blund held half-quarter of land, at Deryndromcarme (Derrin, near Athea), rendering 24*s.* 8*d.* per year, and doing suit at court.

William Dundonenald, half-quarter in Glyngowyn (Glenagown), at 2*d.* per year, and does suit.

William Toost, 10 acres in Lysmatleth (now obsolete), without suit.

Philip Fitzralph and Adam de Portesbury, 24 acres in Le Nanagh, in later times this was called Le Granagh, and was the name of a large district running from Ashgrove over the hill to Athea, and comprised several townlands.

A DIRECTORY of IRISH PARISH REGISTERS INDEXED

INTRODUCTION

The History of the indexing of Parish Registers in Ireland started early in the 1980's. Individuals and Groups recognising the necessity to provide an easy way to having Genealogical records available, started indexing local Parish Registers. The I.F.H.S. was formed to bring these Groups together in 1984 and to standardise the procedures and to encourage other groups. The Irish Family History Foundation was formed by these Centres in 1989 and one to three centres were recognised or designated in each county as the official I.G.P. Centre. The Irish Genealogical Project was later created from representatives of Government Agencies, I.F.H.F. and other Genealogical Groups. The I.G.P., with the help of the International Fund for Ireland, decided to establish a Computerised Database to record and have available all Church Records, Griffiths Valuation, Tithe Applotment Records 1901 and 1911 Census and Grave Stone inscriptions etc.

This is an all Ireland Project and each of the Centres designated have been supplied with a Digital microvax 3100 mini computer and a common database programme specially designed for the Project.

Thirty two Centres have so far been designated and three are pending, Kerry, Cork City and Cork West.

The Comments given on the Centres reflect the situation at the end of 1991. As time progresses each Centre will be adding further Parishes to their list. Apart from Parish records all the Centres hold copies of other major genealogical sources. Not all the Centres can offer a research Service but most will check the records available.

All enquiries to Centres should be accompanied by two I.R.C.'s.

The information is as supplied by the Centre and the I.F.H.S. do not accept responsibility for the accuracy of it.

The Society wishes to acknowledge the assistance of John Grenham and John Tunney, I.G.P. Managers in the production of this Directory.

Graveyards

© Robertstown graveyard

There are five graveyards in the parish of Shanagolden-Robertstown-Foynes. Robertstown graveyard is situated in the grounds of a church ruin, about a quarter of a mile by road from the present day Robertstown church. At Robertstown graveyard the oldest headstone that we came across was from November 1788 and it was in memory of Joanna O'Brien.

© Mount Pleasant graveyard

Mount Pleasant graveyard is situated close to the boundary line between the parish of Shanagolden/Robertstown/Foynes and Askeaton/Ballysteen parish. At Mount Pleasant the oldest headstone that we found was from 1817 but according to Canon O'Keeffe's records, the oldest headstone in the graveyard dates from 1785, and is in memory of a W. Casey who died aged 46.

Shanagolden graveyard is situated across from the Community Hall. The oldest headstone that we came across in Shanagolden cemetery dated from 1814. However, according to Canon O'Keeffe's records on the headstones in the cemetery, the oldest headstone is from 1703. It is in memory of M. Pierce Green who died on November 12th 1703. On the headstone are the words "killed by the Tories".

There is also a graveyard located in the grounds of Kilmoylan church ruin. In Kilmoylan graveyard, the oldest headstone is in memory of Owne Mulkere who died on the 10th of March 1808 at the age of 92. There is also a plaque to the Desmond and Crimmins families in the ruins of the old church.

The fifth graveyard surrounds the historic site of Knockpatrick. The oldest headstone here is in memory of Fr Philip O'Nolain who died in 1738 after only one year as parish priest of Shanagolden. Also buried on Knockpatrick is Charlotte Smith O'Brien, the daughter of William Smith O'Brien who was a Member of Parliament in Westminster for over 20 years, where he represented his constituents with distinction. Charlotte died on June 3 1909 aged 63.

DOORWAY OF OLD ABBEY.

situated in a small valley near Old Abbey House, about two miles east of the village of Shanagolden in the parish of Robertstown.

The first reference that can be found to this convent, is that in the Inquisition relating to the Manor of Shanid in 1298, where the following entry is given: "Wherefrom are subtracted 8*s*. paid yearly to the Bishop of Limerick for land which his grandfather granted to the nuns of O'Konyl, and 26*s*. 8*d*. paid to the same Bishop to acquit land of demesne which Sir Thomas held of him there."

John Fitzmaurice, the above-mentioned grandfather, was slain at Callan in 1261, so that the convent must have been in existence for some years before this date.

In the taxation of 1302 the goods of the house of St. Catherine were valued at 40*s*. 4*d*., and the tenth 4*s*. 1½*d*.

In 1306 it is stated that "the revenue of the monastery of the Prioress of O'Conyl does not suffice for the maintenance of the prioress and convent."

1306. In this year the prioress was engaged in a lawsuit with Maurice Fitzphilip, who got a loan of a horse to go into Leinster to assist John Fitzthomas in his wars. Maurice promised to return the horse immediately and in good condition. Yet he detained him for six months, and also provisioned himself and his kerne at the expense of the prioress, which greatly oppressed her tenants, who threatened to leave her lands. The prioress succeeded in recovering 17*s*. 4*d*. from the said Maurice for these offences. It may be remarked that Edmund MacPhilip held Dysert Castle and other lands in Morgans in 1586, and probably was a descendant of the above-mentioned Maurice.[1]

1316. The prioress failed to present Norman Fitzrichard to the vicarage of Robert Goer (Robertstown). She was summoned to answer for this offence, but did not appear to answer the charge, for which she was ordered to be attached for contempt of court.

1418. Bona domus Katherinae in O'Conyll custos exced se in redditu annualit taxanter XIs. IIId.[1]

A tradition existed in the beginning of last century that this convent was suppressed by the Holy See before the dissolution of the monasteries, owing to some irregularities of the prioress, who was a lady of the Fitzgeralds. This tradition is confirmed by the following entry in the return of the first fruits :—

1428. (23rd November) Cornelius O'Longligh (Lynch), rector of the parochial church of Rayronayn (Rathronan), diocese of Limerick, as principal and private person, bound himself in the name of Alan O'Longsichh vel O'Longsidyh (? O'Lynch) for the first fruits of the first year of the parochial church of St. Ratherine de O'Conill, diocese of Limerick, value 20 marcs; vacant by the suppression of the order or nuns of St. Catherine de O'Conill (per suppressionem Mon. Sce Catherine de O'Conill.)

We are not able to trace the fate of this convent further, as there seems to be no mention of it until the reign of Philip and Mary, when an inquisition was taken of its possessions. It is frequently mentioned in the latter half of the sixteenth century as its possessions passed through many hands.

Peyton gives the following townlands as belonging to the parish of St. Catherine or of the monastery of Nogellagh, as he calls it :—

castle; it is also stated that these two quarters were manured and inhabited. This convent had also the rectories of Dunmoylan, Grange (near Newcastle West), and Robertstown. It had a rent of 20s. out of Aughinish Island.

Archdall says that it had certain rectories in the barony of Duhallow, Co. Cork, but these seem to belong to the convent of St. Catherine, Waterford. Some of our local authorities, following Archdall, identify this convent with a convent of a similar name near Lough Gur. The ruins of this house, as they exist at present, consist of a long narrow church of the thirteenth-century style, measuring 83 feet by 18½ feet, with a handsome doorway, a cloister garth measuring 73 feet square, to the west of which is a domicile containing three vaults. To the south of the cloister garth is the refectory, and south of that the kitchen. Some of the out-buildings remain, such as the pigeon house, which resembles that of Adare, the fish pond, outer enclosure gates, etc.[1]

Monaster ne Callow Duffe or Black Abbey in Limerick.

There seems to be nothing known about this convent except the following entry in Peyton :—

> Monaster ne Callowe Duffe near the walls of Limerick, and in the parish of Temple Moyry, otherwise called Lady's parish (now St. Mary's), in the city, with its gardens, orchards and buildings, was held by Murrugho McDermodo J. Bryan, Baron of Inchequeyne in Thomond.

St. Peter's Convent.

This convent is supposed to have been founded by Donald More O'Brien in 1171 for Canonesses of St. Augustine. There is very little known about it.

Weep not, children, in the morning.
When the toils of life are o'er;
We may meet our dearest mother.
Safe upon the other shore.

CARD OF TKANKS.

We extend our heartfelt thanks to our friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us in the sickness and death of our mother, and when it is theirs to mourn may they find as kind friends to soothe their sorrow.

Found Dead in a Ditch!

Horrible Death of Geo. Reimund, a Monroe Township Farmer. ✓

Early yesterday morning travelers on the road past the Crockett farm in Harrison Township noticed a buggy and a horse at the bottom of the deep ditch side of the road, and on attempting to pull the outfit upon the road were horrified to discover the body of a man huddled in a heap underneath the buggy. The features were easily recognized as those of Geo. Reimund, of Monroe township, but the body was cold in death.

The remains were removed to his home and the terrible news broken to the family who had been worrying over the absence during the night of Mr. Reimund. He had gone to Grelton Tuesday afternoon to do some trading and started home after dark. This was the last seen of him until his dead body was found in the ditch early the next morning. While the officers are investigating the death there are no evidences of foul play and it is believed the horse became unmanageable while driving home and ran away, throwing the buggy into the ditch, the resulting injuries and exposure causing the untimely death of the unfortunate driver.

On Saturday morning last, at about four o'clock there passed away after months of often severe suffering, George Daniel Frank at his late home on Strong street. He attained the age of 81 years, 2 months and 14 days. Mr. Frank was the son of Adam Frank and his wife, Catherine Mollet. He was born at East Euclid, Ohio, a suburb of Cleveland, October 25, 1849. In his youth he learned the trade of a mason and after he came to Napoleon in 1876 he followed his trade till old age called a halt.

On October 17, 1880, he married Miss Catherine Reimund. This union was blessed with five children, two of whom, preceded their father in death, William H. Frank at Frankfort, Ind., in 1910, and Ray N. Frank here in 1929. The deceased is survived by his beloved helpmate of more than fifty years and three children, Arthur C. Frank of Fremont, Ernest E. Frank of Detroit, and Mrs. Cora May Bish of Findlay. These, together with eight grand children, three aged brothers and two sisters, all of Cleveland, live to mourn the death of their beloved relative.

World War Veteran Ends His Own Life

Ray Franks, 34, was instantly killed last Friday night, the victim of rebuilt army rifle in his room at the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Dan Franks on Strong street.

"Tommy" as he is known to his many friends in Napoleon was an ex-service man and had been in ill health for some time.

He is survived by his parents, a sister, Mrs. C. V. Bish of Findlay, and two brothers, Ernest of Detroit and Arthur of Fremont.

Ray Franks was born in Napoleon July 3, 1895 and attended the public schools. He was attending Defiance college when war was declared.

He enlisted in the Navy, at Cincinnati, July 11, 1917, for four years and took his training at Newport, R. I., where he specialized in signal, semaphore and telegraphic work. He saw service on the U. S. S. Pennsylvania and was finally sent to the U. S. S. Huntington as a member of the signal crew with rank of Quartermaster.

The Huntington acted as a special convoy in leading the transport boats carrying American troops to England and France. Due to continuous exposure in all kinds of weather Franks suffered a severe attack of influenza in the early part of 1918, which later developed into tuberculosis. He served until September 2, 1919 when he was honorably discharged at Pittsburgh, Pa.

After his discharge Franks entered employment in Detroit, Mich., but suffered severely from his lung condition and was compelled to accept government hospitilization at places including Johnson City, Tenn.; Navywood, Ill.; Mt. Vernon; Rocky Glenn and McConnellville, Ohio.

Funeral services were conducted by Mr. H. E. Williams rector of the Episcopal church from Boyers' Funeral Home Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. Members of the local American Legion post attended. Burial was made in Forest Hill.

He came to America with his parents in 1860 at the age of 11 yrs. They resided for a short time near Galion but later moved to Flatrock Tp. where he was united in marriage to Anna Maria Reimund; then moved to Monroe Tp in 1886 where he lived till his death. To this union were born 8 children, 7 sons and 1 daughter. Two sons preceded their father to the grave in infancy. There remains to mourn their loss his beloved wife, 5 sons, 1 daughter, 3 daughters-in law, 1 grandchild and a host of other relatives and friends. The cause of his sudden death was heart failure.

Although Mr Rettig was a great sufferer for the past 24 years, he bore his affliction with christian fortitude. The memory of the just is blessed.

The funeral was held Tuesday, April 16 at 10 o'clock at the Reformed church 3 miles north of town of which he was a faithful member till his death Interment took place at the Reformed cemetery, Rev J. H. Poetter officiating.

Couple Will Celebrate Their Golden Wedding

MR. AND MRS. W. H. JEAKLE

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Jeakle, 2612 Bancroft St., will observe their golden wedding anniversary tomorrow. A family party will be Sunday at the restaurant operated by their son, Clyde, in 1536 Western Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeakle, who are 70, were born and reared on adjoining Henry County farms. They were married at Malinta in 1895. After serving as one of the youngest sheriffs in Henry County history in 1906 at the age of 31, Mr. Jeakle entered the contracting business. They moved to Toledo from Tiffin, O., five years ago.

They have three sons, Clyde and Clifford, Toledo, and William, Tiffin. Clyde, as K. O. Jeakle, 20 years ago, was a leading contender for the world's lightweight championship.

Napoleon - Feb. 1950

50 YEARS AGO

The largest stick of ship timber ever to arrive in Napoleon was brought here by Wm. Jeakles. It measured 37 inches square and was 50 feet in length, from a white oak tree grown on the Fred Gerken farm 1 mile north of the infirmary. It was shipped out of Napoleon via the canal.

A son was born to Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Haney in Florida.

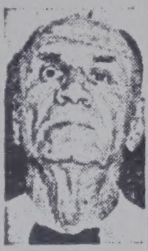
Friends were booming John Harman for the job of ferryman at Damascus.

Lewis Fahrer received a badly mangled and broken arm when his hand was caught and drawn in a hub machine at the Honeck stave mill in Malinta.

William Jeakle

Retired Contractor, Former Sheriff

William H. Jeakle, 78, of 136 Lake Shore Ave., retired contractor, former Henry County sheriff, and professional boxer and fight manager, died yesterday in St. Charles Hospital after a 3-month illness.



W. H. Jeakle

Born near Napoleon, Mr Jeakle lived on several farms in the area until 1906, when he became sheriff, one of the youngest in county history. In his youth he was a professional welterweight boxer, fighting under the name of Battling Jeakle. Later he served as a boxing and wrestling manager and referee.

Mr. Jeakle entered the contracting business in Tiffin, doing road, bridge and sewer work throughout northwestern Ohio after his term as sheriff. About 15 years ago Mr. Jeakle moved to Toledo.

Two of Mr. Jeakle's sons also were professional boxers. Clyde (KO) Jeakle, a Toledo restaurant operator, was a contender for the lightweight title in the 1920s, and Clifford, Toledo appeared often in the ring in this area.

Mr. Jeakle and his wife, Mary, observed their 50th wedding anniversary in 1945.

Also surviving are a son, William, Fostoria; 11 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Services will be Monday at 11 a.m. in the Bersticker Mortuary here and at 2 p.m. in the Boyer-Walters Mortuary, Napoleon. Burial will be in Napoleon.

Mary P. Jeakle

She was a former resident of Napoleon and the wife of the late William H. Jeakle, who died in October, 1953, and who was the youngest sheriff of Henry County, a professional boxer and fight-manager and general building contractor in Toledo.

Surviving are three sons, Clifford, and Clyde, Toledo, and William, Fostoria; sisters, Mrs. Rosa Teeple and Mrs. Caroline Bittikofer, both of Napoleon; also a brother, William P. Swin, Napoleon; 11 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

JEAKLE MEETS WHITE

Kayo Jeakle, of Bradner, Ohio, crack lightweight, will step after big game in the leather pushing world when he meets Charlie White of Chicago in the open air arena at Columbus on June 4. The bout is scheduled to go 12 rounds.

Jeakle is being pointed for White, who is among the leading light weights in the country and the principal foe of champion Benny Leonard. If Jeakle wins the affair it will mean greaters to him and Sam Jordan, his manager, says he will take him right into New York and seek a match with the title holder.

JEAKLE WINS ON FOUL WHILE CROWD HISSES

LIMA, O., May 28.—K. O. Jeakle, of Bradner, O., was awarded the decision over Bobby Ward, St. Paul lightweight, on a foul in the eighth round of their scheduled 12-round bout here tonight. The decision was hooted by the crowd, which shouted its disapproval as Jeakle walked from the ring after claiming the foul, smiling and apparently unhurt. Ward was Jeakle's master at all stages of the bout, giving the Bradner boy the boxing lesson of his life. He made Jeakle miss nearly every lead and landed telling blows at will that were quickly wearing down the Bradner bearcat.

Jaekle Brothers Feature of Card

Not many brothers have made good in the ring. There are cases, of course, where two members of a family have won fame, but they are far between.

The Sullivans, Jack and Twin; Leach and Marty Cross; the Attells, just about cover the field of prominent boxer-brothers.

Monday night at the Empire theater, the Jaekle brothers, Kayo and Battling, are on the card. They are Ohio lads, hailing from Bradner, and Bradner fans were in Toledo Monday with ringside seats, expecting to see the home boys win.

Kayo Jaekle, star of the family, meets Battling Budd, the best lightweight in the South, in the 12-round final; Battling Jaekle meets Kid Lucky, said to be a rough house scrapper from Dayton, in the semi-final.

The third bout will be changed, owing to the illness of Jack Darry, who has contracted a Summer cold. Someone will substitute with Kid Lucas, who came up from Dayton to meet Darry.

Memories of Kayo

JUL 2 9 1976

The public library now has considerable history on the career of Toledo fighter Clyde (Kayo) Jeakle who, in the 20s, met the greatest of the lightweights and compiled a record including 48 knockouts before his career was halted by blindness.

Joe Riley, who collected two scrapbooks full of clippings on the colorful fighter, has donated them to the local history room.

Not included in the scrapbooks, however, will be Kayo's equally notable career as a bartender after he lost his sight.

Kayo could draw beer to the rim of the glass without spilling a drop, and was able to clear empty glasses from the bar while leaving the partially filled ones. These maneuvers puzzled many patrons, until one day he explained to a Blade reporter how this was accomplished.

In drawing beer, he knew that when his topmost finger felt the cold of the beer passing, it was time to hit the spigot. The foam would take care of the rest.

Picking up empty glasses was a bit more complicated. He'd wipe the bar off frequently. Normally, a drinker with a partially filled glass would lift it up to get it out of the way. Any glass left on the bar, he could almost assume was empty.

To play safe, when he felt his bar rag hit a glass, he would pick up the glass. If there was liquid inside it, he could tell by the weight and motion and would put it down. People would think he'd just picked it up to get his rag under it. If it was empty he'd drop it in the sink.

Clyde Jeakle

Former Contender For Boxing Title

Clyde (Kayo) Jeakle, 59, of 1536½ Western Ave., former Toledo boxer, died today in St. Luke's Hospital.

Mr. Jeakle was a leading contender in 1925 for the lightweight title vacated by Benny Leonard but lost his eyesight in one of a series of elimination bouts for the crown, forcing his retirement.

He reached fame as a boxer between his 21st and 24th birthday by scoring 48 knockouts. He never was knocked off his feet. He fought such ring notables as Sid Barbarian, Jimmy Goodrich, Lew Tendler, Jack Zivic and Alex Hart.

Lost Sight In Ring

It was in the fight with Hart that Mr. Jeakle was injured and became blind. He entered the bout unable to see out of one eye. He lost the sight of the other in the 10th round.

Known as the Bradner Bearcat, he came from a fighting family. His father, William, and brother, Clifford, both fought under the ring name of Battling Jeakle.

After his retirement Mr. Jeakle went on to become a colorful figure in Toledo, particularly among its fight element. He attended fights, and though unable to [illegible] to visualize the action with oral assistance from friends.

Tavern Operator

He also was able to work efficiently in his tavern, KO Jeakle's Cafe, at the Western Avenue address. During the war he was known as a bartender who tolerated griping but who was likely to launch his own attack against customers who spoke of slacking up in the war effort.

In the vernacular of the fighter he referred to the first type as one who was "just punchin' the bag around." But the latter was tagged as one who "hit below the belt."

The body was to be sent to the Bersticker Mortuary.

BATTLING JEAKLE TO FIGHT BURKE

Bout Will Be Semi-Final on Armory Card Tomorrow.

Battling Jeakle of Bradner will meet Dave Burke of Detroit in the eight-round semi-final of the Shea Brothers' boxing show in the Armory tomorrow night.

The announcement that these two would meet on the same night as Joe Packo and Soldier King means another high-class match and also is of considerabel interest.

Battling Jeakle is a brother of the famous Clyde (Kayo) Jeakle, the Bradner youth who lost his sight when in the zenith of his career and struggling for the lightweight title. His younger brother, who was a lightweight of considerable reputation in this section a year or so ago, is determined to take Kayo's place as a pugilistic star, and has been showing great prpmise recently in the welterweight division. He has been anxious to show in Toledo, and the Shea Brothers signed him up to meet the Detroit star.

Despite the fact that Burke lasted only 30 seconds when he fought Don Boyer here two weeks ago, there are many who believe he is one of the finest welters in the country. His manager, Harry Tuttle, swears Dave will leave Toledo, Wednesday night, standing high in the esteem of fight fans here. It is a certainty that the Hebrew lad will make a desperate try against Jeakle, who is a hitter and rusher of the same type as his unforunate brother.

There will be a six-rounder and a four-rounder on the card. The four-round affair will bring together big Jim Kelly, green but powerful heavyweight of this city, and Frank Fulton of Detroit, another of Harry Tuttle's proteges. Kelly has been working out with Jack Hayes, and altho his friends admit he is green, they say he will show Toledoans all sorts of strength and aggressiveness.

The main bout, which will give Packo another crack at his famous rival, Soldier King of Grand Rapids, has attracted great interest here and in Michigan cities, and a record crowd for the summer is in prospect, the promoters say.

The public is asked to procure their reservations early to avoid the lineup at the ticket window at the Armory.

The Editor's Mail

Rep. Courier

To The Editor:

I am writing in regards to the education-tax bill. I believe we have needed an updating in this department in our state for some time now and I am in favor of a sound improved method of aid to education.

I have never voted against a school bond levy. It is my belief this is one area that is just impossible to over-finance, for the following reasons:

tional tax dollars which will be taken to another area of the county just because the people in that area voted down their school levy?

"Taxation without representation . . ." You said it, brother!

I help support two school systems in Findlay — public schools and St. Michael's parochial — and I am proud to be a part of both.

Wheat Continues Its Upward Trend

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat futures advanced 1½ cents a bushel on the Chicago Board of Trade Monday, marking the third straight session of rising prices.

Other grains also were mostly higher, but soybeans declined 1 cent. Soybean oil and meal also were weak but meal prices showed some firmness near the close.

Some trade sources noted that there was little outside incentive for buying of wheat futures and that most of the session's trade was between local professionals. Prices opened on a mixed tone then advanced a full cent, where some resistance developed. Buying near the close sent prices to highs for the day. Rye prices generally reflected the strength in wheat and closed about a cent ahead.

Reports that wet fields and flooding in sections of the Midwest might delay spring fieldwork tended to influence buying of corn futures. Hedging by commercial interests on the opening was easily absorbed by a mixed buying trade and prices held advances of about ½ to ¾ cent to the close. Oats came under early profit taking after a ½ cent advance but closed with no rally.

An abundance of sellers created the pattern of prices in the soybean pit and active selling sent the nearby deliveries down by 1 cent. New crop beans, however, gave up small fractions. Soybean oil and soybean meal also posted small losses through most of the session but stop loss selling near the close helped meal futures.

Iced broilers came under profit taking and eased about 15 points but the choice steers advanced about as much under mostly local buying.
